

PRESIDENT STULIFIED HIS OWN NOTE, CHARGE MADE BY SENATOR LODGE

Massachusetts Solon Declares That Wilson Added Postscript to 'Strict Accountability Message' Telling the German Government Not to 'Take Statements' Made Therein Regarding Sinking of Lusitania, too Seriously

BRYAN BLAMES THE BLAME

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

SOMERVILLE, Massachusetts, October 29.—That President Wilson himself penned a postscript to the second note addressed to Germany over the sinking of the Lusitania, in which he informed the German minister for foreign affairs that the text of the first Lusitania note should not be taken too seriously, was the charge repeated last night by Senator Cabot Lodge, before a large gathering here.

The President, said the senator from Massachusetts, withdrew that postscript eventually and it was never made public as a portion of the correspondence with Germany, but he wrote it and it was brought to the knowledge of the German government.

HAS GOOD AUTHORITY

The senator stated that he spoke on the authority of Dr. Charles H. Bailey, of the Tufts Medical School, who quoted Henry Breckenridge, assistant secretary of war under Secretary Garrison, who resigned from the Wilson administration when his chief refused to accept the President's change of mind on the National Defense Bill.

Senator Lodge added that he assumed that Secretary of State Bryan resigned from the Wilson cabinet because of the trouble that this postscript brought to the administration.

KILLED "STRICT ACCOUNTABILITY"

In the first note to Germany, following the sinking of the liner Lusitania, unwarned, and the killing of twelve hundred persons, including one hundred and twelve Americans, President Wilson used his phrase "strict accountability." He declared that "Submarines cannot be used against merchant shipping without inevitable violation of the sacred principles of justice and humanity." He spoke of the amazement of America at the German submarine policy and expressed the hope that the slaughtering of noncombatants was being done without the sanction of the German government. "This government cannot bring itself to conceive that Germany countenanced and sanctioned such actions," he wrote.

The paragraph of this first note, from which Senator Lodge declares the President pulled all the teeth in his postscript to the next of the series, which has been the most frequently quoted, says:

BRAVE WORDS UNMEANT

"The United States has been made aware of the creation by Germany of a war zone at sea, but it cannot submit to the adoption of such measures, or permit any warnings of danger within such a zone to become operative as an abbreviation of the rights of American shipmasters and citizens bound on lawful errands, whether under the protection of the American flag, or as passengers on merchant ships of belligerent nationality. Neither can the United States evade its duty to hold Germany to strict accountability for any infringement of those rights, whether intentional or incidental."

This is the note which thrilled America with some degree of pride at the time, which the President, according to an important high official in his administration, took means to inform Germany later did not mean what it said.

POLITICAL PARTIES PUBLISH DONATIONS

Whitney and Dodge Largest Contributors To War Chests

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
NEW YORK, October 28.—Both parties, in conformity with the corrupt practices law, have prepared statements of campaign contributions received, and today make them public.
The Republican national committee reports total contributions of $1,667,737 from 22,226 contributors. Harry Payne Whitney contributes the largest amount, $30,000.
To the Democratic campaign fund $1,882 have contributed and their donations amount to $1,006,283. Cleveland H. Dodge, of the class of '79 at Princeton and of the great copper corporation, Phelps, Dodge & Company, a $50,000,000 concern, is the largest contributor, giving $79,000.
Wilson himself has supplied $2500.

LOS ANGELES, October 28.—A counterfeiting plant which has been producing $10 federal reserve and silver certificates has been found in the studio of H. Russell Wilken, who was arrested at Santa Cruz.
Wilken has confessed that he has made and passed $50,000 in bad bills in the last seven years. He made the paper for himself and worked into its texture the stolen threads.
Wilken's home was New York, but he has worked in many cities, always posing as an artist.

FLAMES ON FRENCH LINER EXTINGUISHED

Steamer's Crew Drowns Fire In Hold After Hard Fight

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
FAYAL, Azores, October 29.—When the French liner Chicago, carrying 180 passengers from Bordeaux to New York, put in here yesterday, the fire which had been raging in the hold of the vessel for twenty-four hours, had been extinguished.
The conflagration is believed to have resulted from inflammable material that the ship was carrying.
Aside from the loss of some of its cargo the ship did not sustain serious damage and probably will proceed to its destination after slight repairs.
Evidently the first despatches naming the liner Bordeaux were in error. The Chicago is a well-known French steamer.

ENTENTE ALLIES MAKE LOAN TO VENIZELIS

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, October 29.—Despatches to this city last night from Athens announced that the Entente Allies have agreed to lend the Greek provisional government $2,000,000. This arrangement has been made with the officials of the government created by former Premier Venizelos at Salonika. The Athens government is said to have pledged its word that no hindrance shall be placed in the way of recruiting the army that is being raised by the provisional government, as it recognizes that the movement headed by Venizelos is purely anti-Bulgarian.

ROMANIA COUNTERS DRIVING TEUTONIC INVADERS BACK

Bucharest Reports Capture of Eighteen Hundred Prisoners In Successful Attacks

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS
Bucharest claims that the Rumanian troops operating on the Transylvanian frontier have been successful in beating back the attacks of the Austro-Germans and had captured 1800 prisoners and the town of Piatra.
Petrograd officially admits retreats in the Dobruja districts, before the continued pounding of von Mackensen.
French troops launch successful hand grenade attacks, which capture a quarry northeast of Douaumont, on the Verdun front.
North of the Somme, say the Berlin despatches, British and French attacks fall under the German artillery fire.
The Italians make some minor gains against the Austrians.

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
PARIS, October 29.—Rumania, taking advantage of a lull in the attack by General von Falkenhayn, yesterday launched a counter offensive in a number of fronts and drove the Austro-Germanic forces back, capturing 1800 prisoners and quantities of munitions and supplies, according to the official despatches from Bucharest which reached this city yesterday.

The invaders from Transylvania suffered heavily, it is declared. Piatra, which the Teutons had captured some days before in their first eastward rush, again passed into the hands of the Rumanians under King Ferdinand. The fighting here, say the Bucharest despatches, was long, bloody and very fierce, and when the Teuton commanders finally withdrew their troops, 1100 prisoners were left behind.

Other counter-attacks mentioned by the Rumanian general staff were driven forward from positions in the vicinity of Tulgheas, Blacova and the Ural valley points. Here the Rumanians, forced back though they were by the relentless attacks of the Rumanians, succeeded in holding their foes after a time, although they lost heavily in killed and wounded and 300 prisoners.

Northward, in the Campulung region, the Rumanians also successfully counter-attacked. In the Drag-Oslavie and in the Wallechia district they are reported to have taken 450 prisoners, together with some machine guns and supplies.

Teutons Make Gains
South of Kronstadt the fighting has been going forward without success and with varying fortunes. The Rumanians yesterday reported gains in this region, and Berlin officially claims to have "taken a height south of Kronstadt, but otherwise the situation has not materially changed."
The retreat of the Rumanians and the Rumanians in the Dobruja district appears to be slowly continuing, the retreating armies contesting every foot of the way as they retired.

Petrograd yesterday afternoon admitted that the Slavs and Rumanians have been compelled to continue their retreat in this section of the war front and that they had lost important positions on both banks of the Bystur River. In the region of Doron Watre, according to the Russian official statement, the Rumanians have also abandoned two heights they had been holding against the attacks of the troops under the command of von Mackensen. Von Mackensen Gaining

The official accounts of the fighting in this theater of the war, as issued last night by the German general staff in Berlin, says that the troops commanded by von Mackensen are gaining ground steadily, and that they yesterday took positions held by the Rumanians and the Rumanians in the neighborhood of the Transylvanian-Bukovina border, where they have captured 500 Rumanian prisoners.

The French troops under General Petain, north of Verdun yesterday continued pounding at the Germans, commanded by the German Crown Prince. Using hand grenades that blasted their way for them as they advanced, they attacked the German positions in a quarry north of Douaumont, driving out the defenders and taking the place by storm. The captured ground immediately was consolidated.

The announcement of this followed immediately after the publication of a despatch declaring that an aviator of the Entente had dropped a bomb upon the Kaiser's special train, killing the engineer. The Kaiser was in Bapaume, north of the Somme front last Monday, and is reported to have delivered an address to the troops on that front, in which he declared that "they had made a shining model" for all the future to admire.

Other attacks north of the fortress on the Meuse river, are said by Berlin to have broken down under the effective fire of the German guns, and the same claim is made in regard to a number of attacks launched by the British north of La Boesche and Gueudecourt, on the Somme front. Berlin also reports that her troops beat back with the bayonet the attacks made near Morval, north of the Somme, by large forces of French troops.

Save for some slight alterations in the line where the Italians have wrested ground from the Austrians there has been no change on that front worth recording, say the official despatches.

DIG LAND SUIT IS DISCONTINUED IN WHITNEY'S COURT

Bishop Estate Drops Ejectment Case Against Waiialua Agricultural Company

CIRCUIT JURIST REFUSED
POSTPONEMENT OF TRIAL
Plantation Claimed Expenditure of $2,225,000 Since 1909 On Kawaiiloa Tract

The suit which the Bishop Estate brought against the Waiialua Agricultural Company some time ago, affecting a big tract of the islands, land leased by Waiialua, was formally dropped yesterday by the Bishop Estate. There was some argument in court as to preliminary to quashing the suit, the representatives of the Bishop Estate bringing up the plaintiff's claim for the appointment of a successor to S. M. Damon as a reason why the case should be continued, and E. D. Tenney referring to his hurried trip back from San Francisco, where he left Mrs. Tenney ill, and the fact that the business of the big plantation was being partly held up by the suit, as reasons why the case ought to go to trial at once or be called pau.

This case was an action in ejectment, the Bishop Estate endeavoring to break the lease on a big tract of upper Waiialua land on the claim that the land was not being cultivated, as provided in the lease.

The case was to go to trial at nine o'clock tomorrow morning before a jury in Judge Whitney's division and the jurors had been summoned to be on hand. Now it is all pau and the per diem for the taleman has gone a glimmering.

Sought Postponement
The plaintiff recently sought to secure a postponement of the trial of this case, but this was denied by Judge Whitney. At this time Edward D. Tenney filed an affidavit. He swore that he was president of the Waiialua Agricultural Company and that he had been compelled to leave the bedside of his wife, who is ill in a San Francisco hospital, to come to Honolulu to be present at the trial.

Mr. Tenney also swore that the mere pendency of the suit against his company was affecting its business that in justice to the defendant the case should be determined finally as soon as possible. And, again, he desired to return to California as soon as possible to be with Mrs. Tenney, whose condition is serious.

Fourteen Thousand Acres
In 1909 the Bishop Estate leased to the Waiialua Agricultural Company the land of Kawaiiloa, containing an area of 14,685 acres, for a term of thirty-five years. In seeking to eject the company from the land in question the Bishop Estate alleged the non-compliance by the Waiialua Agricultural Company of the covenant requiring that the company cultivate to its full capacity the entire tract of land.

This was denied by the company in its answer, the claim being made that it was carrying out this particular clause in its fullest sense. In his affidavit, objecting to a postponement of the trial of the case, President Tenney claimed that his company had spent in improvements, cultivation and for other purposes on this tract alone since the land was leased to the Waiialua Agricultural Company a total of $2,225,000.

Unruly Automobile
Tries To Force
Way Into Theater
(Mail Special To The Advertiser.)
HILO, October 25.—Now that the Gaiety Theater has been so greatly improved and is proving such an attraction, a wayward automobile has tried to butt in, for during the performance Monday evening an automobile driven by a Japanese ran up on the sidewalk and just missed getting into the theater without a ticket.

The automobile left the Tanimoto store, and instead of going to the corner to make the turn, tried to make the turn in front of the theater. Something apparently went wrong with the machine and, making only a half-turn, it ran up on the sidewalk, and only stopped when it reached the entrance where the posters are usually displayed. There were no police in sight and the machine quickly backed away and disappeared.

Diaz was placed on trial first and a number of witnesses testified to his using impolite words relative to Captain de Silva. He was found guilty and fined one dollar and three dollars and fifty cents costs, all of which he paid. Then Captain and Representative de Silva was placed on trial and promptly acquitted.

COLONEL ATTACKS WILSON CHARGING CROSS HYPOCRISY

'Shameless Insincerity' Laid At Door of President By Theodore Roosevelt

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
NEW YORK, October 29.—Making if anything a more, violent attack upon Wilson and the present Democratic administration than any delivered since he has taken the stump, former President Roosevelt, in a speech before an immense audience, last night, charged the President with shameless hypocrisy and insincerity.

Taking as his text the recent declaration of Wilson that this is the last great world-war that the United States will be able to keep out of, Roosevelt contrasted this declaration with "Mr. Wilson's previous policy of compromise and lack of activity in advocating and planning for a larger army and navy." "Which," he declared, "would be the best guarantee that the country would be able to keep out of any world-war."

"The President's words," he said, "do not harmonize with his acts. They contradict each other at every point. If it was just and the best policy of this country to keep out of the present war, notwithstanding the violation of international law by the invasion of Belgium, it will be equally just for the United States to keep out of any future world-war, no matter what the justification."

"If it was a wise policy for this country to avoid conflict with other countries on the plea that we are 'too proud to fight,' it will be an equally wise policy for this country to refuse to build up an adequate naval and military force for any possible contingencies in the future. If we are too proud to fight now, it is only good logic to declare that we will be too proud to fight any nation that tramples on the rights of American citizens in the future."

Republican Candidate Charles E. Hughes, in an address at Ogdensburg, New York, last night declared that if elected President he will consistently protect the rights of all Americans, whether on land or sea.

"Have we lost our patriotism?" the candidate asked. "Have we forgotten our splendid traditions? Are red-blooded Americans 'too proud to fight' in a just cause? I believe not. But I believe that there must be a revival of the spirit of the early patriots and the citizens must be with us today as it was with our forefathers. The manhood of the United States must be willing, as were our fathers, to sacrifice everything, even life itself, for the country that we love."

ROMANCE SHATTERED BY STERN PARENTS

Trip To Reform School Follows Girl's Elopement

(Mail Special To The Advertiser.)
HILO, October 25.—It was a sad and sorrowful girl who started for Honolulu and the reform school on the Mauna Kea last Monday, while the parents of Amelia Lopes are sorrowful and also sorry that they prevented their daughter and Donicio, a Filipino case planter of Paauhau, from getting married after they had eloped last week.

Amelia is seventeen years old and in love with Donicio, but her parents had forbidden their getting married, so last week they decided to get married anyway. They eloped in old-fashioned style and came to Hilo, where they tried to get a marriage license. But meanwhile the parents had telephoned the police and when the couple applied for a license they were arrested. Mr. Lopes came to Hilo and took his daughter home.

But Father Louis, probation officer, took a hand and at the request of Judge Quinn made an investigation, with the result that Amelia was arraigned in the juvenile court last Saturday and committed to the reform school.

When this happened Mr. and Mrs. Lopes retained Attorney T. E. M. O'Neil to try and get their daughter out of custody, promising that if she was allowed to remain here they would not oppose her marriage to Donicio. But all their efforts were in vain, and so Amelia had to sail away with her romance sadly fractured, though she believes it is only postponed.

PANCHO VILLA AIDED BY AMERICANS, CHARGE OF CARRANZA LEADERS

First Chief Accuses Government of United States of Giving Real Assistance to Bandits: May Withdraw Members of Peace Commission, On Ground They Have As Yet Utterly Failed to Secure Removal of Pershing's Troops

DENIES DIAZ SUCCESSSES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

WASHINGTON, October 29.—Direct charges that Pancho Villa is being given aid by Americans and direct charges that American officials along the border are permitting the carrying on of an anti-Carranza propaganda were made yesterday, both from the City of Mexico and from a prominent representative of First Chief Carranza here.

Some are discussing these charges as the preliminary to an announcement on the part of General Cabrera, acting for Carranza, that the de facto chief has decided to recall the special commissioners representing Mexico in the joint commission at Atlantic City. It is believed that Carranza is disappointed at the lack of progress being made by his commissioners in what he considers their prime object, the securing of the withdrawal of General Pershing and his men from Mexico.

CARRANZA GROWS UGLY

The charge that Villa is able to keep in the field and continue his operations against the de facto government of Mexico comes from Carranza himself. The first chief issued a formal statement of the situation yesterday in which he declared his knowledge that only through being given American facilities is the bandit leader able to maintain his force together.

He declared that the Mexican government would eventually suppress the rebels in the north, but that the task was being made most difficult through the American aid and encouragement Villa is receiving.

DENIES DIAZ SUCCESS

Carranza, in his statement, denies the reports that the Constitutionists have been defeated in the south by the forces of Felix Diaz. On the contrary, says the first chief, the Diaz army was itself defeated and scattered and its leader has been forced to cross the border into Guatemala for safety.

The Zapatistas, says Carranza, have likewise been defeated and driven out of their refuge in Coahuila, having scattered and taken to the mountain.

The first chief adds his wife will soon return to Mexico from San Antonio and that he himself has no intention of leaving Mexico.

CABRERA'S CHARGES

The charge that an anti-Carranza propaganda is being carried on along both sides of the border and that American Army officers and other officials cognizant of this fact are not taking steps to prevent it was made by General Cabrera. This spokesman for the first chief declared that both the Army officers and the customs and immigration officials are lax in their methods, the latter permitting known enemies of the Carranza administration to cross and recross the line at will, carrying information back from the United States to Villa and his sympathizers and keeping the plotters in the United States in touch with the bandit leaders. The Mexican officials along the line consider this extraordinary, he said.

Cabrera added the statement that "maybe if Secretary of State Lansing would call for a broad interpretation of the United States laws dealing with neutrality and regulating immigration, and would insist upon a consistent and efficient administration of those laws, it would go a long way towards checking the border disturbances."

LANSING PEEVED

This statement, given to the press yesterday by Cabrera, and the challenge to Secretary Lansing, have attracted the immediate attention of the secretary of state, who will probably take steps to establish the authenticity of the alleged statement. If he learns that Cabrera actually spoke as he is quoted, it is probable that Secretary Lansing will call his disregard of diplomatic etiquette to the attention of the de facto government in Mexico, possibly with a request that he be recalled from his consular post in the United States.

LOCAL FLOUR PRICES WILL REMAIN STEADY

Although flour prices are climbing rapidly in all mainland markets on account of the world's shortage in the wheat crop, the local wholesale prices have not been raised to a parity with mainland prices. Furthermore, local prices will not be raised until present stocks are exhausted and then only if higher prices at the mills compel it.

Many local dealers anticipated the present rise and have contracted considerable quantities of flour at prices which under the ruling rate. The opinion has been freely expressed that when the Argentine crop begins to come into the world's markets from December to February, the apparent wheat shortage due to bad seasons and the European war will in some measure disappear.

The International Institute of Agriculture at Rome estimates the world's shortage at seven per cent only, the 1916 crop being about equal to that of four years ago.

HILO CHRONIC DRINKER GETS LONG JAIL TERM

No Mercy Shown To John Senavia By Judge Wise

HILO, October 27.—Little mercy is shown in Hilo to a chronic drunkard. This has been proved more than once, with the result that there are only one or two "regular" chronic of this kind left here. One of them is said to be John Senavia. He is one of those whose whole existence apparently centers around a tank of booze. Given the opportunity, it is stated, he will lap it up so long as he can see.

Last June Senavia was sentenced to three months in jail for being drunk. He was released the last of August. Since that time he has managed to keep out of the clutches of the police, but this last week he misadventured and on Thursday he was arraigned before Judge Wise in the district court on the same old charge. He was sentenced to six straight months in jail, which is stated to be the stiffest sentence ever dealt out in this district to a man for being merely drunk.

At the same session of court Judge Wise declared forfeited the bail of eleven Filipinos who had been arrested on a charge of gambling in one of the local camps. None of them showed up when their cases were called and the county is richer by $110, which is some jack-pot.
